

WHEN SCHOOL BOARDS GO EXTREME, TEACHERS FLEE.

School boards across North Texas have been taken over by extremist PACs funded by out-of-state money, and EVERY SINGLE TIME, teachers resign in droves. Who can blame them? No one wants to work for someone who has repeatedly vilified teachers and made outrageously false claims against them.

Resignations increased 18% statewide, last year. But in every district where extremist candidates seized control of the local school board, resignations skyrocketed:
